More turbulence in the council chamber as it all gets personal

A MEETING called to make a final decision on whether the On-board Jurassic Airlines simulator could return to Lyme Regis over winter descended into a personal argument between town councillors.

As reported in last week's View, Lyme Regis Development Trust and Hartnell Creative Communications requested that the aeroplane simulator, which proved popular in Lyme during the Fossil Festival, be set up inside the Jubilee Pavilion on Marine Parade for a three-month stint, from October 22nd to January 22nd.

Councillors gave an in principal agreement for the return of Jurassic Airlines, but were told two other bookings had been made for the Jubilee Pavilion over this period. It was decided that the deputy town clerk, John Wright, would negotiate with those who had made the bookings and report back to the council at an extraordinary meeting, which was held on Wednesday night, when the final go ahead was given to the project.

40-minute row

However, the discussion descended into a 40-minute row between councillors, with claims of personal interests not being declared, "point scoring" and rude emails being made.

The deputy town clerk reported that he had spoken to those who had made the two bookings, one of which was for Bonfire Night and would not be affected by the simulator. The second booking was for Cancer Research UK's Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race on December 15th, organisers of which had booked the pavilion for indoor events.

They asked that if the simulator was given the go-ahead, the following conditions were met: Jurassic Airlines doesn't open on the day until 2pm; that the right side of the pavilion be made available in the event of poor weather; and that Jurassic Airlines considers making a donation to the charity.

Mr Wright also reported that he had spoken to the council's insurers and there would be no extra cost to have Jurassic Airlines operate in the shelters, and that costs of risk assessments and drawing up of a license would be covered by those running the project.

The town council will receive 10 per cent of profits over the three months, expected to total £2,990. Councillor Daryl Turner asked if this figure was realistic. Chief executive of Lyme Regis Development Trust, Marcus Dixon, said the simulator had been at 85 per cent capacity in both Lyme and Weymouth in the summer and he was confident they could target potential passengers through their website.

Councillor Turner said: "Ten per cent of nothing is still nothing!"

JEWELLERY-maker Lindsay Anderson moved from Hertfordshire to Dorset in 2003, spending the last seven years in Dorchester.

Her experience in the craft world led to her founding Shop Dorset – a shopping website dedicated to promoting local businesses.

The 43-year-old lives with her partner, Neil, six-year-old daughter Daisy and Lottie, the rescue lurcher.

● WHAT is Shop Dorset?

Shop Dorset is a new, networked shopping website featuring a great mix of independent local retailers, food producers, artists and craftspeople. It shows off what a fantastic variety of small enterprises exist in our beautiful county, drawing on a fashionable desire for shopping locally. We now have nearly 100 local enterprises on board and are still growing weekly with space for many more to join.

● WHAT inspired you to set it up?

I have run the Dorset Art and Craft Show for over six years now, as a series of quality events in different venues around the county. I found many of our exhibitors were unsure how best to harness the marketing opportunities the web now offers in terms of developing their businesses and retailing to a wider audience. Having always worked in marketing, I felt I could bring my experience to build something which could really help a wide mix of Dorset businesses pull together to jointly promote their fantastic wares.

● DOES it help customers or businesses?

Both! We are obviously trying to connect shoppers with businesses who offer what they are looking for, and businesses with potential customers for their products. If your Christmas list seems like a daunting challenge this year, just click onto www.shopdorset.co.uk and you will find a whole host of original ideas for all, including those hard-to-please family members and friends, all available from the comfort of your own home.

● HAVE you ever turned away a business?

No, not yet luckily. I think the ethos of the site is quite clear, so retailers understand that we are only aiming to attract those businesses who offer quality, appealing products with great customer service.

● HOW did you start making jewellery?

I have been making bead jewellery since I was a child and I have lost none of the simple pleasure that creating your own designs brings since those early attempts. I now specialise in sterling silver designs with gemstones, freshwater pearls and beautiful beads and sell my work through Walford Craft Mill and Shop Dorset.

● WHAT are the influences on your designs?

The endless combinations of colours, shapes and textures inspires new pieces - necklaces, bracelets and earrings from easy-to-wear items to special occasion designs created for that wow factor.

● HOW do you manage to juggle work and family life?

A very supportive partner who is man enough to use an iron or oven without it threatening his masculinity. I know I'm lucky to often pick my daughter up from school although it regularly means working late into the evening to repay the privilege but I would be bored if I wasn't so busy and relish new challenges as a way to keep life interesting.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

● IS the internet killing the high street?

I think people will always enjoy visiting the high street and the more sociable experience it offers. But with busy lives, the internet can offer an alternative shopping experience when we haven't the time to pound the pavement for what we are looking for. With Shop Dorset you don't lose the personal touch as you are dealing direct with each of our retailers, many of whom are one-man or woman bands.

● WHAT does your daughter make of your jewellery?

She says she wears it and she really likes how pretty it all is. She is very sweet and kind to her mummy! It's lovely to see how all small children are so easily absorbed by crafts, the creative instinct is something we should nurture throughout life.

● WHO would you most like to see wearing your jewellery?

Kate Middleton for the obvious exposure and Aung San Suu Kyi for the credibility.

● WHAT is your favourite shop in the world?

My local deli, The Potting Shed (Olives Et Al) in Poundbury whose chilled and friendly café is a favourite after-school haunt with my daughter. Now they have launched in America, which is a fantastic inspiration for all Dorset enterprises. I also love Kaniki, the Uttam shop in Bath, whose great online presence also reflects the quirky fashion sense of the store.

● WHO would play you in the biopic movie of your life?

I would hope for Cameron Diaz but fear that friends would cast Barbara Windsor instead – something to do with my distinctive laugh!

Click onto www.shopdorset.co.uk for great Christmas gifts and enter the site's Christmas Free Prize Draw which offers a Lush gift box worth £100 amongst its great prizes (see site for T&Cs).

The Dorset Art & Craft Show is at the Corn Exchange in Dorchester on Saturday, December 8th, 10am to 4pm with over 50 local artists and craftspeople exhibiting.

ArtsFest project wins £30,000 grant

LYME Regis ArstFest has won a £30,000 grant for its ongoing project Re:collection.

ArtsFest organisers Karol Kulik, Christine Allison, Wendy Davies and Peter Wiles were delighted to announce that they had successfully secured the grant from the National Lottery, through Arts Council England.

Re:collection is a collaborative project with Lyme Regis Museum, in which artists take inspiration from the museum's collections to create original, new works across the arts spectrum. It was launched at this year's ArtsFest and the grant will now support 16 Re:collection projects involving 20 artists.

The organising team said: "To achieve significant public funding in today's climate is a huge vote of confidence in the quality of our artists and their proposals, as well as in ArtsFest's ability to deliver results.

"We'd like to thank the museum staff and volunteers who've shared our enthusiasm for Re:collection from the start, but ultimate credit goes to the artists whose projects were so well conceived and imaginative.

"ArtsFest is truly proud that as we start our second decade of organising art events in Lyme Regis we now have the opportunity to support even more solidly the talented artists who live here and to provide for the first time a full year's worth of exciting art activities for the local community and visitors alike."

Museum director David Tucker was equally pleased with the news.

He said: "It is fantastic to see the museum's collections being interpreted in new ways and providing inspiration to Lyme's current artists. The success will no doubt invigorate further the town's already vibrant arts community and the museum looks forward to playing its part in this new activity."

The majority of artworks being created for Re:collection will be unveiled next year, but ArtsFest organisers and the museum were keen to offer the public some sneak previews of the work in progress over up-coming months.

Five Re:collection artists will be curating their own exhibitions in the Rotunda Gallery over the next 10 months.

Private emails cause a stir among bickering council

Councillor Chris Clipson then spoke strongly against private emails between councillors that had been circulated that week on the subject of Jurassic Airlines.

He said: "I can't believe the emails that have been flying around between council members this week and I have not responded because of the nature of the emails."

He added that the emails implied that the Town Management Committee, of which he is chairman, was "not on top" of the matter.

Whilst he was speaking, Councillor Michaela Ellis raised her hand to speak. Addressing her, Councillor Clipson said: "Oh, I know what you are going to say, councillor."

The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, asked him not to make personal comments.

Councillor Clipson continued: "I find it extraordinary that this churning goes on and no one has come to me, as chairman of the Town Management Committee, and said this is a problem."

The Mayor reiterated that she didn't want any personal comments made.

In reply to Councillor Clipson, Councillor Owen Lovell argued: "As I have said before and you are going to get it again, I have the right to ask about anything on the minutes of a committee meeting that I was not at, and as you wouldn't have me on your committee, I will stick with that for the rest of the year."

Councillor Ellis added: "I take offence from your comment that you know what I'm going to say, you don't know what I'm going to say."

She stressed that the council should have received the application from Jurassic Airlines much earlier and referred to the fact construction in the Jubilee Pavilion had already started, saying it shouldn't have before the final decision was made.

Councillor Lucy Campbell said she had spoken to Jurassic

Airlines project manager, Lisa Quick, and was told the request had been submitted in early September but they did not receive a reply for some time from the council. She agreed they should have dealt with it earlier but it was not necessarily the fault of Jurassic Airlines.

Councillor Turner said his problem with construction of the simulator having already started was health and safety aspects, including the fact it would use a compressor. He asked if this had been taken into account and whether the insurers knew about all aspects of the simulator's operation.

Councillor Turner complained that these issues were not discussed at the previous Town Management Committee, adding: "We changed the name of that committee so the public knew what it was about – the town and its management. Not much management went on!"

He later added: "My issue is the risk to this community and that is it."

The deputy town clerk told him that he had been conscious of health and safety matters throughout the whole process.

Frustrating point scoring

Councillor Mark Gage said he thought the simulator was a "very positive thing", adding that it would generate a lot of activity during an otherwise quiet time of year, that passengers may visit local businesses and that they might return to the town in the future.

"There is nothing but positives to be taken from this," he added.

Councillor Anita Williams said: "It is frustrating as ever to get bogged down with what seems to be point scoring between councillors."

She added that she was "disappointed" with the emails that had been sent during the week and made reference to the Amusement Arcade, owned by Councillor George Symonds, saying that it would benefit from Jurassic Airlines.

Councillor Symonds replied: "My business interests are well-known in the town and on the Register of Interests."

Councillor Terry O'Grady asked him: "But are you not sponsoring the pudding race?"

Councillor Symonds said he had made a one-off donation towards the event, adding: "I made a donation to a charity event. Is there a problem with that?"

Councillor O'Grady replied: "I just thought you might have a pecuniary interest in that."

The Mayor interrupted to say it was down to individual councillors to decide if they had an interest in something or not.

Councillor Ellis said: "I keep hearing about emails but I haven't seen anything of these emails."

She said if information was being passed around, all councillors should know of it.

Councillor Lovell said the council had to decide whether the shelters complex was going to be used for recreational or commercial purposes.

"You can snatch money from anyone for siting anything on the seafloor. Everyone knows that and if you don't you shouldn't be here. But you need to find a balance," he said.

"Make your minds up – recreational or commercial? To keep it the nice seafloor resort it is it has to be recreational. If you want to snatch all the money you will ruin it, it will end up like Blackpool."

It was then agreed to allow Jurassic Airlines to use the Jubilee Pavilion for three months, taking into account conditions of the Christmas Pudding Race organisers, health and safety issues, insurance matters and a slightly later finishing date of January 25th, which allowed three days after closing to dismantle to simulator.

Councillor Williams requested a recorded vote. Ten councillors voted in favour – Councillors Holman, Clipson, O'Grady, Gage, Campbell, Rikey Austin, Ellis, Lorna Jenkin, Symonds and Williams. Councillor Turner voted against and Councillor Lovell abstained. Councillors Barbara Austin and Ann Bradbury were not present.

Following the vote Councillor Turner asked to make an amendment that the insurance company was made aware of all fire escapes, the compressor and other operational aspects of the simulator.

The Mayor told him they had already voted on the matter, to which he argued that they had only created a "substantive motion", which could be amended. The same argument from Councillor Turner caused controversy in the council chamber earlier this year when they were asked by police for alcohol restrictions in the public gardens and on Marine Parade, resulting in the council having to seek legal advice over procedural matters.

In this case, councillors agreed that Councillor Turner's amendment was already covered in the original proposal.

● CONSTRUCTION of the Jurassic Airlines simulator continued after the final go-ahead was given and started operating on Sunday, offering two flights an hour with many fully booked. Those taking a trip 250 million years into the past to dinosaur-inhabited Pangea included Deputy Lieutenant of Dorset, Minnie Churchill, and the deputy town clerk John Wright.

■ FOLLOWING the extraordinary meeting of Lyme Regis Town Council and Councillor Terry O'Grady's implication that, as a sponsor, Councillor George Symonds had a pecuniary interest in Cancer Research UK's Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race, Councillor Symonds released the following statement to the View:

"At the last town council meeting, when Councillor O'Grady suggested that by supporting this event I may be doing so for financial gain, I was horrified.

"Cancer Research UK is something I care a great deal about. Having lost my father to cancer last December, and my wife also losing her mother to cancer some years before, Cancer Research UK is something we have avidly supported for many years.

"It is disgraceful that a councillor should stoop so low as to suggest my intentions were anything other than charitable."

Councillor Symonds said he had declared his pecuniary interests on the Register of Interests as required by the council's Code of Conduct.

Charmouth volunteers getting ready to take on village library

A GROUP of volunteers from Charmouth have begun training in preparation for the takeover of the village library.

Local volunteers agreed to take on the library following Dorset County Council cuts. It will now be known as Charmouth Central to emphasise its more comprehensive role as a community facility.

The volunteers were visited by a training team from Dorset County Library Service, led by Sharon Kirkpatrick, who outlined the service and spoke about how it will be embracing the digital age more extensively in the future by offering more online services, as well as continuing the existing services to communities, schools, prisons, care-homes and those living alone who can't get out to source a library book.

Details on how a typical library was operated were given and the necessary rules and regulations for their successful functioning. The meeting then split into four discussion groups to debate how to deal with various kinds of emergencies that might occur in or near to their library.

David Wilson, Dorset County Council's data protection officer spoke about the need for librarians, paid or volunteers, to be aware of the Data Protection Act 1998, and how it could affect anything recorded about another individual in any format, including something heard as "gossip". Volunteers were warned not to give out sensitive information at any time, for any reason.

After lunch, Nicola Brown of Dorset Library Service explained how the county uses the Dewey Decimal method to classify books, and went on to explain how sub-divisions of this system divided books into readily accessible parts of any library under main groups of subject-matter, such as science, with various sub-divisions within that group, such as chemistry or physics.

Literature was handed out to help volunteers understand this system before they split into two groups for a book-finding exercise.

Training will continue in November with hands-on sessions in Bridport and Lyme Regis libraries so volunteers can learn how to use the Library Management System, modified to be suitable for future volunteer use.

A vote of thanks was offered to the Dorset County Library staff and Mr Wilson for putting together a very interesting and helpful day.

Hazel Robinson, chairman of Charmouth Central, is still very much seeking more, especially younger, volunteers to enable the community managed library to open Monday to Friday afternoons and on Saturday mornings, with two volunteer staff per session.

Hazel can be contacted via the website www.charmouthvillagelibrary.org.uk

Volunteer drivers urgently needed for car service

THE Lyme Regis Voluntary Car Service urgently needs more drivers to help residents get to medical appointments.

The car service was set up in Lyme Regis by TRIP, which runs similar programmes around the local area, four years ago in response to a demand from residents who were having problems getting to medical appointments.

Since then, volunteers have helped by carrying out almost 1,300 journeys but on nearly 280 occasions trips have had to be cancelled. This is sometimes down to passengers being too ill to travel or cancelling, but often it has been down to having no drivers available.

The service has recently been drafting in drivers from the Seaton service to fill gaps when Lyme drivers are busy or away. However, six new drivers are urgently needed to keep the service running successfully.

Drivers don't need to commit a great deal of time on a regular basis and all their mileage charges are reimbursed at the current allowed rate of 45 pence per mile.

Neil Hurcock who runs the service said: "Unless we can recruit new drivers soon, we may seriously have to consider suspending the service as we do not wish to offer locals an unreliable service."

Lyme goes pink for the day!

■ TRAVIS PERKINS

LYME Regis was truly in the pink on Friday, as the town dressed up for Cancer Research UK.

Many local businesses and organisations were keen to support the pink-theme campaign as part of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, promoted locally by the Lyme Regis Branch of Cancer Research UK.

Those dressing in pink and raising funds included Lyme Regis Town Council office and outdoor staff, who raised about £70, and Travis Perkins staff, who made over £100 through donations, selling and raffling cakes.

Others taking part included Lyme Regis Medical Centre, Tesco Express, Costa Coffee, Co-operative, Aroma Cafe, the Town Mill Cheesemonger, Making Waves and staff at the View From newspaper offices.

The branch also held its own coffee morning at the Baptist Church Hall to boost funds. Volunteers were overwhelmed with support and the event raised £500.

Branch chairman Philip Evans said: "Collection tins are still to be returned so the total raised is not yet known. We are hoping it will reach £1,000 and would like to thank all those in the town who took part and supported the campaign."

■ CHILDREN at St Michael's Primary School had fun with a Wacky Hair Day on Wednesday, in aid of Weldmar Hospiscare Trust. The children came to school with all kinds of hairstyles - some wore wigs and hair accessories, while others coloured their hair or tied it up in unusual styles. The day raised £142. A number of other events in aid of Weldmar Hospiscare are being held in Lyme Regis this week. Last night (Tuesday) a charity auction was held at the Pilot Boat Inn and today (Wednesday) Rumours Restaurant in Coombe Street will host a coffee morning, lunch and afternoon tea for the charity. There will also be a balloon launch on Marine Parade at 2pm. For clarification, these events are not being organised by the school but in memory of Christine Simpson.

Football author visits St Michael's

■ SPECIAL VISITOR: Author Tom Palmer with children from St Michael's and Aaron Hawkes from Woodroffe School

AUTHOR Tom Palmer visited children from St Michael's Primary School in Lyme Regis last week.

Mr Palmer is known for writing the football fiction series "Football Academy", "Foul Play" and "The Squad". He spent time with children from the Ammonite, Belemnite and Pyrite classes, playing football games and quizzes and talking about his books.

He told the children he was never interested in reading or writing at school but his interest in football encouraged him to write about it.

The St Michael's pupils were joined by Woodroffe School student Aaron Hawkes, who was invited along as a known fan of Mr Palmer's books.

Teacher Rachel Wadsworth said: "Tom is very well recognised by students and has won a Blue Peter award. I thought it was a very exciting opportunity to have a real author come and speak to the children, rather than just learning about him."

Lyme benefits from latest faster broadband roll-out

LYME Regis is among 36 South West communities now benefitting from the latest roll-out of faster broadband.

The upgrade is part of BT's "Next Generation" broadband service delivered over copper lines. It will benefit broadband users with download speeds of up to 20 megabits per second - more than double the fastest speed previously available from BT.

The faster broadband is already available to 81 per cent of South West premises and by next spring this figure will have reached more than 84 per cent. The new service is available on an open, wholesale basis to all companies providing broadband.

■ PUMPKIN PARTY: Entires in the carved pumpkin competition

THE Uplyme and Lyme Regis Horticultural Society marked Halloween last week with a pumpkin theme night.

The society was joined at Uplyme Village Hall by Lori Reichs of Shute Fruits who gave a pumpkin cookery demonstration and sold homemade preserves.

Ashley from Trill Farm Garden also joined the celebrations with a display of varying pumpkins.

Society members and their families enjoyed a quiz and bring-and-share pumpkin-theme supper, with a prize for the best dish. There was also a carved pumpkin competition, judged in two categories - traditional and artistic/decorative, and children dressed in fancy dress.

The horticultural society's next event will be a social and quiz night at Uplyme Village Hall on Wednesday, November 28th.

Getting in the spooky spirit for Halloween

■ LYME Regis Football Club held a Halloween Party on Saturday night to raise funds for its ongoing refurbishment and extension project. The club was decorated for the occasion and party-goers dressed in costume with Rob Larcombe winning a bottle of champagne for his Joker outfit. Guests also enjoyed spooky-theme cocktails, Halloween music and apple bobbing. Pictured above, Ryan Turner and Charlotte Hanlon play the traditional Halloween game. The club's next fundraising event will be a ladies night with Sugar Plum Fairy Boutique on Friday, November 16th from 7.30pm. Shoes, bags, jewellery and accessories will be on offer, as well as drinks specials, nibbles and a raffle. All welcome.

Three generations of talented family to star in Lyme's panto

THREE generations of talented members from a local family will appear in Lyme Regis Pantomime Society's production of "Dick Whittington".

Treading the boards for the first time with the society are Cathryn Brooks, her daughter, Claire Denslow, and grandchildren Melissa and Charlee Denslow.

The quartet will be making significant contributions, with Melissa, a 17-year old A-level student at Woodroffe School and a former member of the Lyme Youth Theatre, having bagged the role of principal girl.

Charlee, 13, has a couple of cameo spots and is already showing great promise.

Cathryn and Claire have both been prominent with Lyme Regis Operatic Society and are enjoying the panto scene. Cathryn plays the traditional good fairy, while Claire, who works at Your World Travel, is strutting her stuff in the chorus.

Melissa will be playing

■ THREE GENERATIONS: Cathryn Brooks, daughter Claire Denslow and grandchildren Melissa and Charlee Denslow will all star in Dick Whittington opposite the vastly experienced Tina Paveley who, as principal boy, is in one of the few roles she has not taken before.

Keen to promote innovation and new faces, the society has chosen a female as the Dame for only the second time in its history.

Currently wowing her fellow cast members in rehearsals is the effervescent Gemma Rattenbury who looks set to emulate the only other woman to play the role at Lyme several years ago, the late Mollie Jones.

Other principals are

Shirley Colley, Tanya Rattenbury, Val Hawkins, Harvey Causley, Chris Quick, Megan Quick and Lisa Quick.

The show will be performed at the Marine Theatre from Tuesday, February 19th to Saturday, February 23rd 2013.

Help build the bonfire

MEMBERS of Lyme Regis Football Club and Lyme Regis Gig Club have offered their services to help build and clear up the bonfire on the beach on Saturday, November 3rd, when a spectacular fireworks display is also planned for 6.30pm.

The organising committee are looking for more help in building the bonfire from 9.30am on the beach.

Anyone who has wood suitable for the bonfire should contact Alan Vian on 01297 442220 and arrange for it to be collected on Saturday morning.

Apply for youth funding

FOLLOWING the successful Candles on the Cobb in August, applications for funding from local youth organisations are now being accepted.

The Candles on the Cobb Committee would like to hear from relevant organisations by November 30th.

Applications should include full details of how much is needed and what the money would be spent on, and should be sent to Les Herbert, Woodlands, St George's Hill, Lyme Regis, Dorset DT7 3NT.

New offices open at St Michael's

LOCAL businesses are being given the opportunity to expand thanks to the opening of three new offices at St Michael's Business Centre in Lyme Regis.

The recently-completed single-storey extension to St Michael's covers 112 square metres and includes three serviced offices, toilets and kitchen facilities, allowing more businesses to stay in Lyme, where office space is sparse.

The development was a result of an objective in the Lyme Regis Community Plan 2007-2027, which highlighted the need for more office space in the town. It will also secure the future of Lyme Regis Development Trust, which owns the new units.

Trust administrator Diana Attenborough said: "It will help cover the trust's core costs which will keep the trust sustainable with a future, and enable it to continue its great work in helping the community."

Lyme Regis Development Trust took ownership of St Michael's Business Centre, formerly St Michael's School, in 2006 from West Dorset District Council. It now also homes trust subsidiary's LymeNET and LymeForward, plus the Citizens Advice Bureau and, upstairs, the View From newspaper offices.

The extension was made possible by a grant from the Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs for the building and the opportunity to re-develop an area of disused playground.

One business making use of the extension is Windriven headed by Murray Saunders of Boylos Watersports on Marine Parade.

Mr Saunders said: "The new office allows us to continue our business in Lyme Regis. Although very picturesque and enjoyable, the benefit of having an office in Lyme Regis is not great enough to justify the high prices that are commanded in and around the town."

"The rent for the new offices in the business centre is realistic and in line of what is affordable for small businesses."

"Not only can we hold meetings in the office but it is a space that our employees can work in effectively. "Lyme Regis' economy will benefit directly from our business through employment and taxes. We also attract visitors to the town both through our distribution, retail and teaching activities."

"Importantly Lyme Regis will benefit more from the thoughts, ideas and experience that we and other businesses have to offer."

Those interested in renting one of the remaining new offices should contact Lyme Regis Development Trust on 01297 445021.

Shop local poster campaign launched

LYME Regis Traders Organisation has launched the first in a series of initiatives to encourage people to shop locally.

Distinctive green posters with the message "Recycle Your Money, Keep It Local, Buy Local" are popping up all over the town as local businesses get behind the campaign.

Traders organisation chairman, Tony Colston, said he is delighted with the response from the local business community and hopes that residents will give the campaign the same support.

"It's all about putting back in to the town what we take out," he said.

"We all want to live and work in a strong and vibrant community, and in order to do so we need our local shops and tradespeople to flourish, which is particularly challenging in a small town like Lyme Regis where trade is so easily affected by seasonality and weather."

The traders hope that the campaign will highlight the benefits of shopping locally and encourage more local residents to think twice before driving out of town.

Mr Colston added: "We hope that the poster's message is fun and to the point. Even if the high street is full, there's usually plenty of parking in the town's car parks at this time of year, so we're hoping to encourage people to make that little bit of extra effort and help us keep Lyme busy!"

The traders organisation is planning to launch more initiatives in the coming months including a late night shopping event to coincide with the turning on of the Christmas lights on December 1st, and festive fun to support the Great Lyme Regis Pudding Race on December 15th.

Red Cross hosting annual Soup and Sweet

SUPPORTERS of the British Red Cross are invited to the annual Soup and Sweet Lunch in Lyme Regis, which has been running for the past 23 years raising more than £8,500 for the charity.

The autumnal lunch event will include a hearty two-course meal of soup with crusty bread and a homemade dessert. It will be held on Wednesday, November 7th from 12pm to 2pm at the Woodmead Halls, from 12 - 2pm at Woodmead Halls, costing £5 per person.

As well as enjoying lunch, meeting new people and catching up with old friends at the event, guests will also have the chance to try their luck in the Red Cross raffle and purchase second-hand books and jigsaws.

Beth Collins, community fundraiser for the Red Cross, said: "Red Cross volunteers and the local community in Lyme Regis have been great organisers and supporters of this long-standing annual event and we hope as many people as are able will come together again and help us raise much needed funds."

"We are very grateful to the Alexandra Hotel in Lyme for providing the soup for the event - such support from local business enables the Soup and Sweet to continue."

The Red Cross in Dorset helps the most vulnerable members of society by providing services such as hospital signposting, loans of medical equipment for people with a disability or illness and first aid training. It also has teams of trained volunteers who respond immediately to emergencies both at home and overseas.

The charity is dependent on voluntary donations to continue its work - and also on the dedication of its highly trained volunteers who are ready to respond 365 days a year.

Second homers invited to join the pudding race

LYME Regis second-homers have been invited to put together teams for the Great Christmas Pudding Race that will be staged on Marine Parade on Saturday, December 15th.

The invitation to holiday residents to join in the wacky event came after a surge of enthusiasm locally for the festive-themed obstacle race, with a number of teams already entered from all parts of the town's community.

Nearing on 100 people are already involved in the pudding race, in which teams of six have to carry a Christmas pudding through obstacles and over bouncy castles in aid of Cancer Research UK.

The teams are also forming bizarre supporting groups to cheer on their competitors and planning over-the-top promotions.

The Bohos, formed of Lyme artists led by Hugh Dunford Wood, are rumoured to be bringing a race horse as part of their guardedly-secret plans. Their rivals, The Lyme Mongers, led by cheesemonger Justin Tunstall and fishmonger Simon Bennett, are next month releasing "Monger Monger", a YouTube single sung by their cheerleader The Mongerettes.

"Monger Monger", sung in the style of The Archies' "Sugar Sugar", is being recorded and produced by musician and Lyme Regis TV editor Gordon "Nomad" Smith.

Now the locals want to get "incomers" involved as well and are urging those with second homes in the town to join in the festive fun.

The official invitation to second-homers came from Lyme Mongers manager Geoff Baker.

He said: "As it's half term we thought it was a good time to catch the second-homers and say, 'Hey, if you're here at Christmas, come on down then and put in a team'.

Community at heart

"Call it the sentiments of the season or of the actual charity behind the event, but although we locals make jokes about incomers, we're all one community at heart and so the Mongers – and I bet all of the local teams – want to see some of the Christmas cousins joining in."

The Lyme pudding race – a local version of the world-famous Covent Garden Great Pudding Race which has run for 31 years – will boast a bonanza of fun for all ages.

It will be opened by Lyme's Queen and Prince Philip, the stars of this summer's Lyme Lympics, who will be welcomed by a Scots piper and accompanied by reindeer.

There will be a unique trophy for the winning team and a goodie bag for each winning team member.

● MEANWHILE The Mongers and The Bohos have united in calling on all of Lyme to join the pudding race teams on the seafront for a huge town video Christmas message sent from Lyme through YouTube to all the ex-pats of the town around the world.

Organisers said: "We want to film Lyme shouting Merry Christmas to all those we love. It can be everybody's and anybody's message to the town's friends and family around the world. And as hundreds will be on the seafront this year for the pudding race, it's the ideal occasion for festive filming."

Civic leaders to join in the fun

AS interest in Lyme's big festive attraction – The Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race – gathers momentum, Mayor Sally Holman has announced that she has invited other civic leaders to join in the fun.

Councillor Holman has informed the View from Lyme Regis that she is organising her annual civic day on Saturday, December 15th to coincide with the pudding race.

Mayors and civic leaders from other towns in the area will enjoy a welcoming coffee in the Langmoor Room adjacent to the Christmas pudding race course and will be introduced to Lyme's very own "Queen and Prince Philip" before the race starts.

"It will be a real fun start to my civic day and a chance to show my civic guests what Lyme has to offer out of the main season," said the mayor.

"The Christmas Pudding Race looks like it's going to be one of the highlights of the festive season in Lyme and hopefully it will raise a substantial amount for Cancer Research UK which I am always keen to support."

The mayor will also be sponsoring the Lyme Regis Town Council team which is taking part in the pudding race.

Queen Franny Allenl and the Duke of Edinburgh (Chris Boothroyd), stars of the Lyme Lympics in the summer, will arrive in Balmoral garb, accompanied by the corgis and with the Duke wearing a kilt. A Scottish piper will also be in attendance.

Live reindeer will also be putting in an appearance to give the children a real Christmas treat, as well as toddlers' cult cartoon character Peppa Pig.

Christmas in Lyme

THE View from Lyme Regis, in conjunction with Lyme Regis Traders Organisation, is putting together a leaflet promoting all the Christmas activities in Lyme Regis.

The full colour leaflet will contain details of all the town's festive events from the turning-on of the Christmas lights on Saturday, December 1st to the Lyme Lunge swim, organised by the Rotary Club of Lyme Regis, on New Year's Day.

Three thousand copies of the "Christmas in Lyme" leaflets will be printed and distributed locally and around the area.

If you are organising an event over the Christmas period and would like it included in the leaflet, please complete the form on the right and return it to: Christmas In Lyme, View from Lyme Regis, Unit 3, St Michel's Business Centre, Church Street, Lyme Regis, Dorset DT7 3DB. NEWS FLASH

Stick to original shelters plan

THERE are a few people around Lyme Regis, particularly from the indigenous population, who are muttering "I told you so" after hearing that the new Marine Parade shelters are losing the town council £26,000 a year.

There was a small but vociferous group of locals who thought the £14 million development of the shelters was over ambitious and were of the opinion that the inclusion of the two community rooms was a step too far which would prove to be a financial burden in years to come.

One of them, town councillor Owen Lovell, pointed out that Lyme was already overstocked with halls and meeting places available for hire and the last thing the town needed was two more.

It is difficult to argue that Owen and a few others who shared his views were wrong. But I'm going to try...

My view is that the two glass fronted Lister and Langmoor Community Rooms, with fabulous views over Lyme Bay, offered a brilliant marketing opportunity but have been badly managed by the town council who have failed to cash in on their potential.

I was the first person to recognise that potential and have used the facilities of the Lister Room on three occasions to raise over £1,000 for Cancer Research UK, my favourite charity.

I first booked the Lister Room on Red Arrows Day in 2011, making sure that the Lifeboat Week committee did not intend to use the facility and giving them £50 for the privilege of doing so during their big week.

This was soon after the shelters had opened and the council had not agreed a proper structure for charging fees. In the end I insisted on paying £30 for an afternoon's use. The council was kind enough to offer it for free as we were a charity but if I

by Philip Evans

book the Woodmead Halls or Uplyme Village Hall I pay the going rate.

I fully accept that charities should be offered free facilities in the two covered areas at parade level as this has always been the case and local groups over the years have raised many thousands of pounds with book and beach stalls, etc.

I also accept that there should be two fee levels for the community rooms, a lower rate for charities and a higher fee for commercial activities. But facilities of this calibre should not be given away for free.

I booked the Lister Room again for a curry evening during last year's Bonfire Night, again making profit, for which we were charged, and again for this year's Red Arrows when the facilities were given free because the council finally agreed the charges.

Had I been responsible for the marketing of the community rooms I would have emailed all local organisations in and around Lyme Regis drawing attention to the quality of the facilities and location. I would have also produced a corporate leaflet distributed to firms and potential hirers within a 15 mile radius of Lyme extolling the virtues of using this prime location for company events and presentations. And I would also have promoted the shelters at various business exhibitions which take place. In sort, adopting a proactive approach to selling the facilities.

The Jubilee Pavilion is also grossly underused. Chris Boothroyd and his team of willing volunteers, who man the information desk in the shelters, have done a brilliant job. But after two summers of having someone on site at peak times, the most asked question is still "Where's the toilets?"

Visitors to Lyme think the shelters are a wonderful improvement but there's just not enough going on inside the pavilion to amuse them. Of course, that was never the intention. The concept was for people to come in and ask what was going on, then go out and do it. But not everyone who comes to Lyme wants to go fossil hunting or cliff walking. In the face of rising losses, the new deputy town clerk John Wright, who seems to me to be the sort of chap who gets things done, has now been instructed to investigate the possibility of leasing out one of the community rooms and one of the two parade-level store rooms on a commercial basis.

In this day and age, the council has to maximise its revenue opportunities but I wish more consideration had been given to the economics of running the shelters and its commercial potential before the construction work started.

Their time would be better spent on such matters rather than devoting so much debating time trading insults, as happened yet again at last week's special meeting over the granting of permission for the Jurassic Airlines to use the Jubilee Pavilion.

The town deserves better than having to witness this continual petty squabbling. They don't have to like each other but they should respect each other's views.

The original plan for the shelters was to have two quality commercial units (Boylows and the National Trust), both of which are a credit to the seafront, to finance the £500,000 loan from West Dorset District Council.

But two more shop or cafe outlets will increase deliveries and Lyme's prized traffic-free seafront will be commercialised even further and will create additional nuisance through deliveries, etc.

With a more proactive approach to the marketing of the shelters, I think a big dent could be made in that £26,000 loss.

The budget for running the shelters will include the allocation of staff costs. Does this mean that if the shelters were not occupied there would be a reduction in council workers? If not, then that cost should be taken out of the equation as the personnel would be used elsewhere on council matters. It is not a genuine additional cost.

It is true that Lyme has many competing meeting rooms - but none with the marketing potential of the Lister and Langmoor Rooms.

During all the discussions that took place prior to their construction, I heard very little about them having to make a profit.

The council are to be praised for turning the un-loved former shelters into a great amenity. Now they need to maximise its use - but not by abandoning their original intentions.

■ IN last week's column on the unkempt state of the Cobb I referred to the Cobb mason being Frank Stone. As many of you have pointed out to me it was, in fact, Jim Stone, who took great pride in his work. Frank Stone, known as Flint, was one of the great characters of the town, and was a plumber, not a mason.

Charmouth Parking Refund Scheme

Charmouth Traders announces exciting new parking scheme

CHARMOUTH Traders are pleased to announce the start of the Charmouth Parking Refund Scheme, which is being introduced in association with West Dorset District Council. From November 1st you can park in the Lower Sea Lane car park for up to two hours and your money is refunded when you spend £10* or more in any Charmouth outlet displaying the 'P FREE' sign (see below). See the next two pages for details of outlets taking part in the scheme.

*At participating outlets. Some outlets may exclude certain products.

Charmouth Traders has been raising money for local causes by running events in the village and last year over £1600 was donated to a number of local organisations. This year we are running three events:

Saturday November 3rd

Bonfire & fireworks at Charmouth Beach (6.15-8pm)

Friday December 7th

Christmas Fair at Charmouth village centre (4.30-7pm)

Monday December 31st

Small fireworks display, mulled wine and mince pies at Charmouth beach (6-8pm)

Everyone is welcome - look out for more details nearer the time.

Have you ever visited www.charmouth.org?

We share the website with the Charmouth Heritage Coast Centre and it is a very good source for Charmouth information. All the shops, holiday parks, pubs and cafes are on the site, which also features events, walks, maps and links to Charmouth history and the Parish Plan.

Charmouth Parking Refund Scheme

1st November sees the launch of Charmouth's parking refund scheme. With 2 hours free parking (see details opposite) you have plenty of time to see what the village has to offer.

WHY COME TO CHARMOUTH?

CCHARMOUTH is a traditional village with a surprisingly good choice of shops and places to eat and drink.

The village boasts a family butcher, traditional bakery, a well-stocked Nisa convenience store, a newsagent/hardware shop, a pharmacy and a post office. You will also find a florist, a superb chocolate shop, two hairdressers, an enticing gift shop, a helpful estate agent and an amazing fossil shop. For food and refreshment, you can choose from two pubs, two cafes and an excellent fish and chip shop.

All the businesses on these two pages are family owned and run and pride themselves on offering a friendly welcome and good old-fashioned service, providing all your everyday needs at very reasonable prices. If you can't find what you need, just ask and they may be able to order it for you.

In two hours you can do your essential shopping and still have time to choose a gift, get your hair done, enjoy painting pottery at Whoopsadaisy or just relax over a drink or a meal.

Come and be surprised at what Charmouth has to offer - you'll want to come back!

'Keep a beady eye' on plans to move LymeNET and library

■ THERE are times when it becomes necessary to contact the local paper to state a few facts and ask a few questions. Believe me, at present time I take no pleasure in this.

I am concerned with local democracy and the way this town is run. We have a town council, elected by the voters, to carry out the wishes of the majority. This way we have recourse to decisions made up to, and including, the next election if necessary. The ballot box is a powerful weapon.

But what do you do about a quango (this word is not in the dictionary)? They are unelected and can dabble and meddle and interfere with anything they like to suit their own ends.

Last Friday I attended a celebration of 30 years service to the town at the Woodmead Halls as chairman of one of the groups which regularly meets there. However, despite the fact that the management committee had prepared plans for the future we were presented with a very fancy idea, to incorporate in a new extension at the rear, the library and LymeNET.

This is the third time that proposals have been made to merge these two separate bodies.

LymeNET is a subsidiary of Lyme Regis Development Trust which has had the fancy new plans drawn up. As to the reason for this merger, one can only ask. Questions were asked at the meeting but no satisfactory answers given.

As to how much has already been spent or what will be required, no one knows. It would be interesting to find out who is going to own what. For instance, who will run the Woodmead Halls and own them?

As far as the status quo is concerned, Dorset County Council is running our library to our complete satisfaction and long may it continue.

The other matter that concerns me is how much consultation there will be with the residents. The town council must keep a beady eye on this lot as the car park is a major issue here. Watch points at every stage of this multi-layered development.

I have been involved in local government all my working life and it doesn't seem to get any better.

Anning Road, Lyme Regis

■ FURTHER to the letter which appeared in last week's edition regarding Virgin Care winning the contract for our medical centre (View From Lyme Regis, October 24th).

We must face the facts that this would not have happened if Dr Conway had not been evicted from the medical centre. Once this happened the PCT had no option but to throw open the tender process for the contract, and Virgin Care duly and fairly won.

At least we, the patients, still have the choice of which practice we wish to register with, and those who are not happy with the outcome can vote with their feet.

Hazel Read,
Lyme Regis (by email)

Should Three Cups be among Lyme's most-loved buildings?

■ HAVING maintained a blog for eight years to promote the re-opening of the Three Cups Hotel, I was somewhat disappointed with your article, "Protecting our prized asset" in Lyme Matters of October 24th.

As a civil engineer, I am all in favour of informing the public of the challenges of maintaining the Cobb as a tourist attraction. However, you began with the question, "Which is the best loved building in Lyme Regis?" and I would have thought that your possible answers could have included the Three Cups Hotel.

In its current condition, it is perhaps the least cared for but I would suggest that it is dearly loved by many people in Lyme Regis and fans of film and literature from around the UK and abroad.

It would be interesting to know what a public opinion poll would say about which building in Lyme Regis is most loved, but far more important to the prosperity of the town would be market research into potential tourist revenue from the promotion of various attractions. Of course, it depends how the questions are phrased. It would be no good to ask, say, a member of a Tolkien society in North America if he would cross the Atlantic to see the place where the author of The Lord of the Rings spent his summer holidays if he were told that the place has been shut for 20 years and is a dilapidating eyesore.

Could I suggest that an analysis of the value tourist attractions in Lyme Regis in terms of return on assets would also be very illuminating? This should include the opportunity cost of assets not currently employed such as the Three Cups Hotel. Indeed, having a closed up hotel on Broad Street must have a negative effect on attracting tourists as well as reducing bed spaces for visitors.

Memories of the Royal Hospital Chelsea

■ FURTHER to your visit to the Royal Hospital in Chelsea (View From Lyme Regis, October 17th) I would like to add some of my thoughts on this wonderful building and grounds.

Born and living in Chelsea most of my life, I know it extremely well – in the earliest days being taken into the Ranelagh Gardens by my nanny, later on climbing the monkey puzzle tree by the Embankment gate, and playing football on a Saturday afternoon and tennis in the summer (apart from when the flower show was on).

As a boy I used to deliver papers to the pensioners early in the morning from a shop in the Kings Road called Jesons.

I would like to recall a most extraordinary calamity that happened to this building in World War One and Two. The main part of the north east wing was bombed in the winter of 1918 with the loss of five lives and precisely in the same sport in the winter of 1945 with the loss of five lives.

How uncanny was this! I was passing closely by at the time. The section of the building was re-built and can be seen today where it joins the existing.

My wife and I last visited the Royal Hospital Chelsea about 18 months ago to see a cousin of hers who was in the Royal Veterinary Corp, who took us on a long tour of the building and we had coffee in their club. We then took him for lunch at Sloane Square – what memories.

Pension rates dropping & Life cover premiums increasing due to an EU Directive!

FROM 21 December 2012 the EU Gender Directive comes in to effect. From this date insurers will no longer be able to use gender as a factor when calculating annuity rates for pensions therefore pension rates decrease for men and premiums for life insurance will increase for women.

If you are due to retire soon or were considering taking out insurance, it may be worth bringing forward your planning to benefit from higher rates and lower premiums. Currently annuities for men are cheaper than annuities for women because, according to statistics, women live longer. This is due to change by men's rates reducing and women's rates increasing. The average payout for a man will decrease by around 10% after 21 December. Insurers have previously been able to argue that men and women present different risks and so their rates and premiums should be calculated differently, however the European Court of Justice has found this to be unlawful and so is brining insurance in line with European laws that do not allow companies to discriminate by gender when offering services or goods. The result of this is that women's insurance premiums could go up by 15%.

Most private pensions allow you to draw the benefits from age 55 onwards so this means that you are perfectly entitled to claim your pension before reaching age 65 if it is in your interest to do so.

If you want to find out more and see what deal we can find for you, call today on 01305 770650 to book a no obligation appointment or visit our Weymouth office, but hurry as time is running out.

Savers continue to suffer under low interest rates

WITH continuing low interest rates, many people who rely on their savings and investments to top up their income have continued to be disappointed with returns. Deposit based savings such as bank and building society accounts and cash ISA's offer a guarantee that your capital amount does not decrease but at what risk? What will the buying power of that money be and is your money devaluing every day that it remains there?

The most important consideration when looking and savings or investments of any kind is diversification, not having all your eggs in one basket and not only avoid holding all you monies in one account but also ensuring that you have a range of assets within your portfolio to ensure exposure to different areas as well as an element of stability though assets with underlying guarantees which can be achieved in a number of ways. The banks are under increasing pressure to make profits, so now more than ever is the time to ensure that you get advice based on what's best for you.

Alison Theobald of Pennywise Independent Financial Advisers can explore all options from across the whole market and has huge numbers of products to choose from depending on attitude to risk right through from basic investment solutions to more advanced bespoke investment management packages.

Double Trouble at 115 Club

ON Thursday, November 8th, once again the 115 Club doors will be open to invite and entertain, with an eclectic evening of Jazz, Rock and Blues from 'Double Trouble' a pairing of two fabulous musicians who entertained thoroughly on their last visit to 115 Club. of experience, between the two of them spanning over 40 years of musical passion. Terry first sprung onto the music scene in the late 60s with the band Wild Country, recording and gigging around the UK, later going on to work with and support such artists as Deep Purple, Status Quo and Ian Drury, with his special style of blues tinged guitar and passionate vocals Terry lights up the stage. Pete has

The Coach and Horses, Winterbourne Abbas, Dorchester

Celebrate Christmas at the Newly Refurbished Coaching Inn, The Coach & Horses

IN THE heart of Winterbourne Abbas you'll find the Coach & Horses, a 3,000sqm village pub that has been transformed by new owners Sandy and Kelvin.

The pub now boasts a coffee lounge which exudes elegance and charm with reclaimed wood floors, open fires, easy chairs, and low tables all lit by chandeliers. Creating an atmosphere of calm and tranquillity with daily newspapers to enjoy or free wifi.

Then a bar area with high leather stools and poser tables, a choice of four real ales, accompanied by lagers and a range of new ciders to suit all ages. Fresh juices and smoothies to entice the young and old alike.

The 100 seater restaurant has a theatre kitchen, home to a traditional clay pizza oven and chargrill where you can watch the chef create your meal. The wood floors and chandeliers all add to the ambience, while in the winter months open fires will create an even cosier feel.

Local chef Chris Fleetwood has created a delicious Christmas menu, filled with local delights to help make your Christmas Party one to remember. Whether you are after the traditional Roast Turkey with all the trimmings, or a festive pizza, topped with Turkey, cranberry and stuffing, the Coach & Horses will provide a great venue for your party, without breaking the bank. The menu offers outstanding value for money at just £16.95 for two courses, or £19.95 for three.

The Coach & Horses is an experience to be enjoyed, with new life given to a pub closed since February. Bookings are being taken now for Christmas Parties from November 16th to December 24th.

The Millside Restaurant, Lyme Regis

THE Millside is located in one of the oldest parts of Lyme Regis, by the river Lym and the Town Mill. Recently rejuvenated the Town Mill has become one of the most vibrant areas of the town with art galleries, artisan foods, drinks and of course The Millside Restaurant.

We love all things local and home-made, because of this we make lots of our own bread, pasta and cakes (with local organic flour of course).

Just like the local suppliers we use, we enjoy the positive aspects of organic products that haven't travelled too far.

We want you to know exactly what's in your food and where it came from.

During December we are open everyday except Mondays and Sunday evenings. Over the Christmas holidays we will be open everyday except Boxing Day and have special menus available for Christmas Day Lunch and Dinner on New Years Eve, visit our website to view these menus: www.themillside.co.uk.

Old Inn, Kilmington

2012 has been a year of celebrations at The Old Inn, Kilmington. The summer was kicked off with Duncan and Leigh celebrating 5 years at this now established and acclaimed pub and restaurant. The summer of Jubilee and Olympic celebrations continued the theme and now they are gearing up for a December of festive cheer.

The pub caters to parties up to 35 and with its cosy log fire and flag stone floors a festive atmosphere is guaranteed. An extensive wine list and a range of great local ales ensures that parties go with a swing.

This year sees the return of a popular second option for more informal Christmas parties: An informal skittle party with finger buffet for 8 - 20 people. Enjoy a fun game of traditional pub skittles, followed by an informal finger buffet served around the log fire.

Details of both the full menu parties and the buffet party can be found on the web site www.oldinnkilmington.co.uk or call 01297 32096 for more details.

Halloween Screening at Bridport Arts Centre

SET in 1976, Toby Jones plays Gilderoy, a documentary sound engineer who finds himself employed by the notorious Berberian Sound Studio – one of the cheapest, sleaziest post-production horror studios in Italy.

Obligated to work with the hot-headed producer Francesco, whose tempestuous relationships with certain members of his female cast threaten to boil over at any time, Gilderoy begins to record the sound for The Equestrian Vortex, a hammy tale of witchcraft and unholy murder typical of the 'giallo' genre of horror that's all the rage in Italy.

Only when he's testing microphones or poring over tape spooling around his machines does he feel at ease. Surrounded by Mediterranean machismo, and for the first time in his life beautiful women. Gilderoy – very much an Englishman abroad, devotes all his attention to his work.

He spends increasing amounts of time mixing screams and the bloodcurdling sounds of hacked vegetables, uneasy in his new environment and failing to notice how life is slowly beginning to imitate art.

Directed by Peter Strickland this film is an homage to the classic Italian Giallos of the period. The Venner Bar in The Bull Hotel will be offering special themed Curzon Cocktails for a special price of £5 on Thursday evening to anyone in receipt of a film ticket.

Grandpa Banana at the Corn Exchange

DIRECT from California Grandpa Banana appears at Dorchester Corn Exchange, the Town Hall building on Saturday, November 10th. Banana was the founder member of the legendary San Francisco Bay area folk rock band The Youngbloods. The band's classic recording Get Together sold over one million copies cracking the U.S. top 5 achieving gold record status in 1969. Get Together was later featured on the soundtrack in the film Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas. The Youngbloods disbanded in 1973, and Banana started a solo career performing his own brand of Californian roots Americana. This gig is part of an extensive European solo tour to showcase Banana's album Even Grandpas Get The Blues. The album features guest appearances from world class musicians the likes of Ry Cooder, Barry "the Fish" Melton, and David Grisman.

Described as "One of the most notable of the unsung musicians" by The Marin Independent Journal, Grandpa Banana (real name Lowell Levinger) has been a major player in the legendary west coast psychedelic and bluegrass scene for over forty years. As well as performing in his own right Banana was accompanist to Mimi Farina (the sister of Joan Baez) for over twenty years, and also played keyboards for ten years with psychedelic band Zero, who's members included Steve Kimock who toured and recorded with members of the Grateful Dead. Banana also played with Norton Buffalo of the Steve Miller band, and also with Dan Hicks and his Hot Licks.

Grandpa Banana currently plays on a regular basis with Barry "The Fish" Melton founder member of Woodstock Festival legends Country Joe & The Fish in The Barry Melton Band and with The Michael Barclay Blues Band. He plays his beloved bluegrass music with friends and neighbours including The Papermill Creek Rounders, David, Tracy and Sam Grisman, The David Thom Band, Peter Rowan and the legendary Artie Rose and associates.

Banana was initially a bluegrass musician who apart from guitar and piano also plays banjo, mandolin, mandola and bass. He began his career on the east coast, in Boston playing bluegrass banjo in the local coffee houses of the early 60's being mentored by the likes of Bill Keith and The Charles River Valley Boys.

AsOne Theatre's Cabinet Maker's Daughter tour comes to Dorset

ASONE Theatre will bring the tour of their show 'The Cabinet Maker's Daughter' to Dorset in November.

Set in 1846, the little town of Lyme Regis is battered by howling winter-gales. Dying and increasingly dependent on Laudanum, Mary Anning embarks on a strange dream journey through a life where she challenged the world of men and shook their beliefs to the core. She is haunted by hallucinations of old friends, enemies and even the dinosaurs she spent her life hacking out of the living rock. Into this world of dreams walks a man she never thought she would see again and attempts to find a resolution to their enigmatic relationship; a play about life and death; frustration and achievement; dreams and memories of long, long ago.

AsOne Theatre's 2012 tour is in association with the Jurassic Coast Earth Festival (a Cultural Olympiad partner).

AsOne's Artistic Director, Jane McKell said: "We have had amazing audience reaction. The words 'compelling', 'powerful', 'thought provoking'; and 'riveting' - have been the norm! It all started when, after reading Tracy Chevalier's great read 'Remarkable Creatures', I contacted her. To cut a long story short she offered us the rights for free to adapt her book for stage to tour - we were applying for funding. However an Australian film company bought the rights from her and curtailed our project. So undaunted we continued with our own play about Mary Anning touring in association with the Jurassic Coast Trust's 'Earth Festival' - itself a part of the Cultural Olympiad. It has been such a success we extended our tour into the autumn. Audiences love our play about this amazing, lowly born Lyme Regis woman - relatively unrecognised, and prevented as a woman from entering the Royal Geological Society - who was recently voted third amongst the top 10 international female scientists to affect the world as we know it. A remarkable Jurassic Coast story of early dinosaur discovery, achievement, sacrifice & love".

The tour visits The Corn Exchange, Dorchester (tel: 01305 267992) on Friday, November 2nd at 7.30 pm; Shaftesbury Arts Centre (tel: 01747 854 321) on Saturday, November 3rd at 7.30pm; and Bridport Arts Centre (tel: 01308 424204) on Friday, November 16th at 7.30pm.

Lexus storms Las Vegas with custom specials

- Lexus's sixth year at the SEMA Show marked with six customised, concept and high performance models
- New Project LS 460 F Sport by Five Axis
- Supercharged GS 350 F Sport by VIP Auto Salon
- LF-CC coupe concept and IS FCCS-R race car
- LFA and LFA Nürburgring Edition

LEXUS has a high-impact presence at the 2012 SEMA Show in Las Vegas this week, its contribution to the world-famous customisation show led by a no-holds-barred interpretation of the new LS 460 F Sport by the Five Axis design studio. Also on show will be VIP Auto Salon's interpretation of a Supercharged GS 350 F Sport.

Joining these custom specials will be IS FCCS-R which conquered the Pikes Peak International Hill Climb earlier this year, and the LF-CC hybrid concept that broke cover at the Paris motor show in September. Rounding off the display will be the LFA supercar in both its standard form and its track-focused Nürburgring Edition form.

LS 460 F Sport by Five Axis

Concept design studio Five Axis has taken the new LS 460 F Sport (due in the UK at the end of the year) and added even more visual muscle and styling impact, with a full aero body kit, 22-inch custom wheels with Yokohama Advan Sport tyres, Air Runner TC-5 air suspension a dedicated matt silver paint finish and grey accents.

Supercharged GS 350 F Sport by VIP Auto Salon

The Lexus GS F Sport made its SEMA debut last year and returns in a hot new interpretation by VIP Auto Salon that raises performance with an Apexi CG SPL custom supercharger kit, high-performance Brembo brakes and Vossen CV7 20-inch wheels. The car's extra potential is broadcast in a WALD International Aero styling package.

Lexus IS F CCS-R

The IS FCCS-R appears at SEMA fresh from its debut at the Peaks Pike International Hill Climb in Colorado, where it secured a second-in-class result on its debut. Powered by a standard 416bhp 5.0-litre V8 engine, this competition special saloon features carbon fibre bodywork elements, 18-inch SSR wheels and racing brakes and exhaust system.

Lexus LF-CC Concept and LFA

The Lexus LF-CC Concept makes its USA debut at SEMA, having being unveiled at the Paris motor show in September. It represents both styling and hybrid powertrain technology that Lexus will be applying to new showroom models in the near future. Also on show in Las Vegas is the Lexus LFA supercar, presented in both its standard form, and with the Nürburgring Package which can be specified to tailor handling for track performance.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

WITH HOWARD LARCOMBE

Lyme go four points clear
Beaminster in semi's after shoot-out

CUP GOAL: Defender Adam Butcher was on target as Beaminster Reserves edged through after penalties.

DOUBLE: Steve Woolloff scored twice as Charmouth hit Ilminster Town Colts for six.

FIRST GAME: Joe Bond returned from injury with two goals in Lyme Bantams 6-5 extra-time win at Drimpton.

Coronation Cup - QF
PERRY STREET 3 MILLWEY RISE 2
PERRY Street trailed twice against Millwey Rise before finally clinching a semi-final with Lyme Regis at the Davey Fort.

Calum Somers gave Rise a sixth minute lead only for Jon Bartlett to equalise soon after. Somers struck again midway through the half. But Street were back on level terms courtesy of a Matt Morgan strike five minutes before the interval.

The game was finally decided by the Mothers' top-scorer Liam Riste who his seventh of the season eight minutes from time.

◆ Updated semi-final draw: Lyme Regis v Perry Street, Crewkerne Town v Winsham United (both ties November 17th)

Division One Cup - QF
CREWKERNE TOWN RES 3 BEAMINSTER RES 3
(Beaminster won 4-3 on penalties)

GOALS from Alex Stephenson, Adam Butcher and Joe Singleton saw Beaminster Reserves ended all-square with depleted Crewkerne Reserves.

The teams were level at 1-1 after 90 minutes. The Rainbows went on to earn an all-west Dorset semi-final against Netherbury after winning 4-3 on penalties.

NETHERBURY 2 LYME REGIS RESERVES 0
LYME Regis Reserves managed to hold cup favourites Netherbury at bay for 84 minutes before finally succumbing to two late goals.

The windy conditions made it tough for both teams. Netherbury had the visitors under pressure for much of the first-half and had the better chances with Phil Hussey missing with a volley and Reece Bulman having a shot cleared off the line.

Lyme were making the Ambers work hard and did look dangerous on the counter-attack.

The most controversial decision of the first-half came when Lyme defender Rob Larcombe deliberately palmed the ball away from above his head, to divert a chipped pass making its way Hussey, who would have been through one-on-one.

To everyone's amazement referee Chris Vowles didn't spot it!

The second-half was again a tight affair, with the Ambers missing further chances and having a second shot cleared off the line, with Lyme defending well. The breakthrough finally came on the 80th minute thanks to lively winger Gary Corry who drove a right foot finish past 'keeper Jedd Whittington.

A second was added late-on when Hussey hit a sweet half-volley after good work from Correy and Martin Bulman.

"It was not a pretty game today, but we now have a semi-final in the bag," said Netherbury manager Andy Loudon, who once again picked out his centre-backs Ryan Gay and Richard Pincombe as his top players.

◆ Updated semi-final draw: Misterton v Perry Street Res or Barrington, Beaminster Res v Netherbury (November 24th).

John Fowler Cup - QF
DRIMPTON 5 LYME REGIS BANTAMS 6 (AET)
LYME Regis Bantams booked their place in the semi-finals of the John Fowler cup after two hours of goal-laden cup-tie action.

Lyme took the lead when Darren Poole smashed home a 25-yard free-kick. But a double strike saw the hosts take the lead only for Pete Peacock to strike twice before half-time as the game see-sawed one way and then other.

Joe Bond, in his first game of the season after recovering from a back injury, extended the Seasiders lead to 4-2.

Drimpton grabbed a foot-hold when referee awarded a disputed free-kick for a backpass to Lyme 'keeper Rob Thom. The resulting free-kick was drilled home from just six-yards out.

This gave the hosts a head of steam and they scored twice more to lead 5-4 in the 85th minute.

But the Seasiders weren't to be denied and Peacock completed his seventh hat-trick for the club from the penalty spot with the last kick of normal time after referee Jowatt had spotted a handball infringement.

Peacock missed a golden opportunity in the first-half of extra time when his second penalty of the afternoon struck the post.

But Bond popped up with what proved to be the winner in the 104th minute and Lyme were through to the semis.

Acting manager Thom picked out Poole and defender Mark Hodder as his star men with Bond and Peacock not far behind.

◆ Updated semi-final draw: Hawkchurch United v Ilminster Town A, Millwey Rise Res v Lyme Regis Bantams (both ties November 24th)

Reg Egton Cup

◆ Updated quarter-final draw: Thorncombe Res v Kingsbury Episcopi, Shepton Beau Res v Barrington Res, Forton Res v Uplyme Res, Combe B v Crewkerne Rang

Premier
BEAMINSTER 4 COMBE RESERVES 3
THERE was a real game of two halves at the Memorial Ground where hosts Beaminster lead 4-0 and missed a penalty in the first 45 before finally being pegged back to 4-3 by a plucky Combe side.

An own goal put Beaminster ahead early on and Ross Pickett netted soon after as Sean Annetts' team took control.

Two became three when Ben Ward stabbed home a Josh Baker corner and the Rainbows were cruising.

Murray Legg squandered a great chance to extend that even further when his spot-kick was well saved by Saints' 'keeper Nathan Bandy.

But the reprieve was only temporary as Pickett leap walled to nod home the goal of the game to make it 4-0.

But the visitors broke their duck through Simon Vincent on the hour and added a second from a Simon Loader free-kick soon afterwards. A Dan O'Connor penalty followed in the 80th minute which made for an uncomfortable last 10 minutes from Annetts and his men.

ILMINSTER RES 2 SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP 2
ILMINSTER Town Reserves bagged their first point of the season with a 2-2 draw at the Rec.

The hosts led through a Taylor Jefferson goal at half-time but San Murley squared things up after the restart.

A foul on Murley allowed Kris Hastings to edge Shepton ahead from the penalty spot. Hastings repeated the feat soon after only for referee Lance Turner to rule the 'goal' out for encroachment.

Alex Paul successfully converted the third penalty of the match to earn Ilminster their point.

LYME REGIS 2 CREWKERNE TOWN 0
LYME Regis stretched their lead at the top of the Premier division to four points with a gritty 2-0 over Crewkerne Town at the Davey Fort on Saturday. However rivals Winsham United have two games in-hand.

The visitors had the better of the opening exchanges. Jamie Spurdle had an early effort hooked off the line and diminutive striker Ed Butcher, in his first game back since dislocating a knee-cap, had a clear-cut penalty shout waved away by referee Nigel Fry.

Lyme's first chance fell to Julien Simier. But the Frenchman's low shot was saved by the feet of Gavin Tett in the Tigers' goal.

A minute later Simier rounded off a superb five-man move only for his effort to be ruled out for offside.

Crewkerne, who just about shaded a close first-half went close twice on the cusp of the interval with teenage 'keeper Will Meech doing well to deny Butcher and Dave John.

The second-half began in the same fashion with Meech tipping over a Spurdle effort. But The Seasiders broke the deadlock in the 53rd minute when defender Kieron White did well to set-up Mark Bailey who smashed home a fizzing 20 yarder that dipped before flashing past Tett and under the crossbar.

The goal finally saw the game swing Lyme's way.

Will Mowbray swung in a corner that grazed the crossbar on the hour and seconds later some quick footwork by Agnelli Fadiga created a chance for Simier but his effort struck the upright after clipping Tett's heel.

Fadiga then smashed a fierce 25-yarder that drifted just wide and Tett almost sliced a backpass into his own net.

At the other end Spurdle, burst through the inside left channel but screwed his shot wide of the far post.

With the game in injury time Mowbray shot wide when well placed before substitute Joel Gostling delicately guided the ball home from an acute angle after the hard-working Fadiga had robbed Tett.

The Seasiders, who have now won their last 14 home games, will have been pleased to record back-to-back clean sheets and to have edged past a stubborn Crewkerne side who appear destined for a top four finish.

SOUTH PETHERTON 3 FARWAY UNITED 1
SOUTH Petherton recovered from going behind in the second minute to climb three places to fourth after a 3-1 win over lowly Farway United.

A Dave Laramy goal stunned the hosts but they quickly responded the lead 2-1 after just 15 minutes through Dan Warr and Danny Rendall.

Warr added a second in the 70th minute to seal the win.

Division Two
CHARD UNITED 1 PYMORE 1
TIM Hussey's ninth goal of the season salvaged a useful point for Pymore at Jocelyn Park.

Rob Milsom's heavily deflected shot midway through the first-half gave the hosts a lead they held until an aerial collision between the Chard 'keeper and a defender allowed Hussey to tap in.

Pymore player-manager Matt Tither felt his side were worth a win, he said: "Chard scored with their only real chance. We were also disappointed to be on the wrong end of so many offside decisions

"They were obviously concerned about Tim (Hussey) as they had their striker Ricky Anderson man-marking him all game."

CHARMOUTH 6 ILMINSTER TOWN COLTS 3
CHARMOUTH climb two places to seventh after racking up their biggest win for three and a half years in beating Ilminster Town Colts 6-3.

Steve Woolloff (2), Matt Pile, Mark Vaughan, Simon Smythe and Dan Rendall scored the goals for the Robins.

UPLYME 3 THORNCOMBE 3
UPLYME manager Rob Coombe was disappointed to see his charges restricted to a solitary point from the visit of Thorncombe.

"We were a shambles in the first-half and despite upping our game after the interval it was still a well below par performance," said Coombe.

A great 20-yarder from Karl Smith found the top corner to give the Thorns the lead at the turnaround.

A superb save from Lloyd Cleal prevented the visitors from doubling their lead but the Swallows, reverting from a 4-3-3 to a 4-4-2 formation, clicked into gear Adam Neale slotted home a defence-splitting pass from Gavin Fowler to level in the 55th minute.

Neale smashed home second from close range a minute later after the Thorns 'keeper had twice kept out goal bound efforts.

Thorncombe levelled against the run of play when ex-Chard Rangers striker John Mason netted.

Uplyme regained the lead in the 70th minute when Jake Bearpark surged from the halfway line before cleverly lobbing home from an acute angle.

But the visitors snatched a point eight minutes from time when Danny Wiseman capitalised on some dozy defending.

Division Four
BARRINGTON RES 6 UPLYME RESERVES 0

Mixed bag for Buckler

BY STUART BROOM

BARON Sutton's first run for nearly a year resulted in embarrassment for Bob Buckler when he headed for the comfort of the stables at Wincanton last week in the Friends Of Wincanton Community Hospital Novices' Hurdle over 2¾ miles on Sunday.

Having got a bad knock on his leg in his debut last November in a bumper, Buckler gave him his first outing over hurdles after working well at home.

However, the five-year-old raced down to the start and back to the line after inspecting the first hurdle, and Andrew Glassonbury had to take a firm hold on him at the back when he dropped him in at the back of the pack at the start.

As they passed the stables after he decided he didn't want to go any further.

Buckler said: "He's a complete monkey! We certainly never expected that. He was pulling like a demon from the start."

"Andrew dropped the bridle slightly after ¾ mile to encourage him, but when they went past the stables he decided he had had enough.

"He works very well at home and there doesn't appear to be anything noticeably wrong with him.

"A lot of people who buy a horse by Baryshnikov say that they can be quirky and I think he is one of them. It was very embarrassing."

There was better news with Malin Head on the same card however, who finished a useful third in the West Dorset Alpacas Handicap Chase over 3m 1f.

Always near the front, the seven-year-old was left in second place when Quay-side Court fell at the 13th, the water jump, but he faded over the final stretch and was overhauled to finish 6½ lengths behind the winner.

Buckler said: "He ran a super race considering he has upped in distance by an extra half mile, and he just ran out of steam. He would have liked better ground but he jumped well."

Quix ran well in his first run over fences, finishing sixth in the Betfred Best Mate Beginners' Chase at Exeter.

With the new rules insisting a horse changing from hurdles to fences must take part in a beginner's race to establish their handicap.

Buckler's horse found himself in a field containing a number of horses destined for Cheltenham in the future.

Buckler said: "I was very pleased with him. He jumped well in his first chase in ground that was plenty soft enough for him. He returned home sound that was also a bonus, in the past he has been lame for a few days after."

"He has the makings of a good chaser. In the past his first race of the season has always been his best, but hopefully we can buck the trend this year."

The stable does not have any runners in the UK this week but Double Dizzy is being prepared to run at Auteuil this weekend when he will take on a high class field over the famous cross-country course.

Sorrell snatches victory

Bridport Evolution 55

A DRAMATIC overtime victory saw Bridport Evolution Basketball Club snatch victory from the jaws of defeat in their latest Somerset Basketball League match.

Match MVP (Most Valuable Player) Craig Sorrell scored a three-point buzzer-beater in the final second of normal time to level the score and take the game into overtime.

The club captain then scored all six of his side's points in the extra period to give Bridport victory.

Sorrell finished the game with a season high 29 points, finishing off a faultless performance by converting two free throws in the final minute to give his side the win.

Bridport had gone into the game as underdogs having been soundly beaten by the home side in a pre-season friendly, but any hope of a repeat performance was quashed early on with Bridport building a 15-8 lead in the first quarter.

The home team then gradually clawed their way back into the game before Sorrell set the game up for a tense finish.

Despite the captain's stand-out display there were strong performances across the court. Player-coach Tom Glover and forward Dave McNiece led the rebounding with 11 boards each, also adding 12 and six points respectively.

Shooting-guard Jeff Robertshaw added five assists and five rebounds to his five points and Ally Hughes, Tony Glover, Ollie Everitt and James White all continued the team's superb rebounding effort with 23 boards between them.

Coach Glover said: "The result shows just how far we have come since that first friendly. Craig truly led by example and I think everyone else stepped up a level because of it.

"We are underdogs in this league so to have two wins under our belt after three games is a great achievement and we are improving every game.

"We have yet to play any of the major title contenders yet, so we are not getting carried away. We're just take it one game at a time and hopefully secure ourselves a good spot for the end of season playoffs."

Bridport host Yeovil Jets this Sunday in their first home game of the season at the Sir John Colfox School.

Players and points: Sorrell 29, Tom Glover 12, McNiece 6, Robertshaw 5, James White 2, Tony Glover 1, Everitt and Ally Hughes.

BRIDPORT SQUASH

Success continues for Bridport 3rds

Springfield CC 2pts Bridport 3rds 20pts

BRIDPORT 3rd's added to their impressive record with another across the board victory over an experienced Wareham side WRITES ROGER LEWIS.

The depth of strength of the Bridport side resulted in five high standard matches, resulting in another very good team performance by losing only two games in the match.

Bridport's Steve Hodder at one once again showed what a good player he is by producing a brilliant display against Tom Greenslade.

His control outwitted his opponent time and time again, and although Greenslade showed glimpses of brilliance, he just could not withstand Hodder's pressure and succumbed 9-5, 9-6, 9-4.

Ed Mamanta at two had a comfortable victory over Ian Lever. It was Mamanta's clinical way of executing his various shots that was the deciding factor. He kept the pressure on Lever throughout with a superb array of shots that proved decisive in his 9-3, 9-3, 9-0 win.

Tim Parkman had a good workout against Bill Oakley at three in a match that turned out to be much closer than the 9-6, 9-6, 9-3 score line suggests.

The two were equal in every respect except for Parkman's ability to cover the court and retrieve Oakley's array of shots; his sharpness proving decisive on many occasions.

Paul Cross was again in devastating form against a difficult opponent in Springfield's Roger Johns at four.

It was Cross who stamped his authority on the match right from the start by using his full range of shots which had his opponent stretched throughout the match.

Johns, as well as he tried had no answer to Cross's superb volleying both on the forehand and backhand which gave the Bridport man victory by 9-6, 9-1, 9-4.

Undoubtedly the best match was the clash between Bridport's club captain Robert Muir and Paul Marsh at five. It became a titanic struggle with both players producing good length shots that led to some very long and tight rallies.

Both players slogged it out for a good hour before Muir clinched a very narrow 7-9, 9-5, 8-10, 9-3, 9-2 victory.

BEES NEWS

WITH STUART BROOM

Bees edged out in closing stages

Buckland Athletic 3 Bridport 2 Toolstation Premier – att: 121

BRIDPORT were denied a share of the spoils at Homers Heath on Saturday after a second half display that had seen them overturn Buckland's two goal interval lead.

Two goals in a minute brought the Bees level and it looked like they would take a deserved point before the visitors grabbed a winner two minutes from time.

Gavin Hammon opened the scoring on 19 minutes when he neatly glanced home Jamie Mudge's curling cross beyond Sam Filkins.

Bridport created their own chances however and Ryan Dovell's speculative long range angled shot landed on top of the net, before Ben Clarke might have done better with two opportunities.

Filkins was then forced into a good one handed save before Athletic doubled their advantage four minutes before the break.

Filkins got his hand to Hammon's driven cross from the byeline, but the ball fell to Mudge who scored at the second attempt.

Bridport came out much more determined after the break and both Dovell and Sam Buckler were extremely close with headers that just cleared the bar, before they got the goal they deserved for their enterprise.

The ball bobbled around the penalty spot following Dan Wise's corner before Clarke with the outside of his right boot struck a volley over the keeper into the top corner of the net.

A minute later Bridport were awarded a penalty when Ashley Edwards handled a cross and Wise scored from the spot.

The game looked to be heading for a draw when with two minutes left sub Danny Lewis headed home at the far post to earn Buckland all three points.

Ressies cling-on

Bridport Reserves 3 Poole Borough 3 Dorset Premier Division

BRIDPORT manager was left frustrated and angry by his side's performance following their 3-3 draw with Magna Premier League basement boys Poole Borough at St Mary's Field.

Despite their poor display, the Bees once again had ample opportunities to have won the game and paid for it when the visitors snatched a point with a last minute controversial penalty.

Townsend said: "Unfortunately the day didn't start well, and I must apologise to the players for our poor pre-match preparation for which I take full responsibility, and assure them that will not happen again.

"However our first-half performance was the worst I have ever seen; they were all at sea and over the place; and although it improved slightly in the second-half, I was very disappointed."

Gary Bulman gave the Bees an early lead, and despite their ineptitude should have scored at least four by the break.

Instead Borough gave themselves a life-line when Sam Coakes equalised following a set-piece.

Despite a scolding at half-time, Bridport failed to respond to Townsend's call, and although they took the lead again through a great Paul Fellows header from a corner, Luke Pidgley squared the game following some more poor defending.

Chris Herbst put the Bees back in front with ten minutes to go with a free-kick, but two minutes later was red-carded when he got involved in an off the ball altercation. Almost immediately Poole were reduced to ten men, when a player was red-carded for a foul on Gale.

It looked like Bridport had hung on for victory, but in the last minute Marc Jackson equalised following a controversial refereeing decision.

Townsend said: "There was no excuse for Chris' actions and he could have no complaints at all but just four minutes later one of their players also received his marching orders for kicking out.

"From there it looked like we would hold on but in the closing stages we lost the ball from a throw-in, which allowed one of their lads to bear down on goal.

"Jamie Fry came out and made no contact with the lad, who overran the ball, but although the linesman signalled a goal kick, the referee gave a penalty. When Jamie inquired why he said he had given it for 'intent to foul'.

"I also queried it with him after the match and he confirmed the decision. I have never heard of that before and it cost is the game but we should have won on the chances we created beforehand."

Townsend added a warning to his charges saying: "One or two out there were doing it but the rest of them were just going through the motions.

"Our job is to find players that are going to learn and step-up to the first team, so unless the players start switching on and listening.

"We may have to look at giving a few of the younger ones in the third team a chance."

Legg strike earns a point

Bridport Thirds 2 Wincanton Res 2
JAMES Legg's last minute equaliser was no more that Bridport deserved from a game spoilt by the strong wind.

Wincanton, with the elements at their back in the first-half, had a 2-0 advantage that was cancelled out by the Bees after the interval.

Bridport went behind from the penalty spot when James Bird was unlucky to be penalised for handball.

A needless foul by Luke Hayter led to the second goal. The full-back gave away a silly free-kick from which Wincanton scored at the far post.

Chris Symes got the Bees back in the game ten minutes after the restart when he bent his shot into the far corner.

The hosts thought they had equalised soon after when the Wincanton flapped at the ball following a free-kick.

The ball struck Bird's hand as he protected his face and bounced into the net.

The referee at first awarded the goal before changing his mind under pressure from visiting players and officials.

It looked like Bridport would go home empty handed until the final minute when Legg was on hand to net the equaliser.

Manager Andy Hitchcock said: "It wasn't a very good game and we didn't play well, although I thought despite going in two down we would have enough to beat them with the wind behind us.

"But we were naive at times and the loss of Luke King with a hamstring injury didn't help our cause."

SCRUM DOWN: RUGBY ROUND-UP

BY KEITH JENKIN

Depleted Bridport savaged by Barbarians

FROME 12 DORCHESTER 31

ALTHOUGH the home side chose to face the stiff breeze during the first period, it was they who made the better start.

Their pack really "got in Dorchester's faces", harassing them into error and taking the lead via a pushover try, touched down out wide. The home place kicker then added the extras with a exceptional kick into the elements to give his side a 7-0 lead.

Dorchester, still lacking in cohesion, did get a score back via a Baker penalty goal, only for a second home try, unconverted this time, to increase the lead. In fact it was only the defensive ability of Read, the Dorchester full back that prevented Frome taking an unassailable lead before the halfway stage.

As it was, the visitors edged their way back into the contest, again through a Baker place kick on the stroke of half time. It was of scant comfort to them at this stage, for Frome had shown themselves to be the better side thus far, and they would now have the wind at their backs.

Strong words must have been digested with the half-time lemons for it was a different Dorchester side that emerged in the second period.

The home set scrum came under increasing pressure, imposed primarily by Warren. Dorchester then began to win the breakdown, and consequently the territorial battle, and tries followed.

Carl Mitchell got the first, touching down in the right hand corner, before Luke Weller got the next down the left.

Although both were unconverted, they served to take Dorchester into a four point lead at 16-12.

Baker then kicked his third penalty of the afternoon to keep the scoreboard ticking and, when his pack drove their opponents back over their own line with Bonner coming up with the ball, there was no way back for Frome.

Dorchester now went chasing the bonus point, and thought they had it when Luke Weller got over. He was pulled back for a foot in touch however but, at the last, Read and Bament combined to put the later clear to touch down try number four.

Baker added the extras to this one to take his side to a bonus point win to which their second half performance had surely entitled them.

TROWBRIDGE 24 WEYMOUTH 22

THIS was an encounter that, although fortunes fluctuated throughout, was in the final analysis as close as the final score suggests.

The first ten minutes belonged to the home side and the Weymouth line came under considerable pressure. It coped however but just as it had cleared, an error came that enabled a Trowbridge prop to gallop down the touchline and crash over.

The try remained unconverted and Weymouth, now having settled, began to play some good rugby. They got a score back via the boot of out half Sheppard but, on the twenty five minute mark, they fell further behind.

Rolling front row substitutions proved to be their undoing. A replacement prop was slow to settle. Trowbridge won one against the head and increased their lead with a converted try. They continued in the ascendancy until the interval, scored another try, unconverted this time, and led 17-3 at the halfway stage.

While Trowbridge were good value for their interval lead, it was the visitors who had the better of the second period.

They narrowed the gap with a try by Joel Wilson who touched down after outstripping the home defence. Sheppard converted this one, and also the next, scored by Will Quick who cut a good angle to get over after a fluent move by his fellow backs had created the opening for him.

The scores were now tied at 17-17 and it was most certainly any one's game to win with fifteen minutes left on the clock.

Disaster now struck for Weymouth for, during a bout of home pressure, skipper Quick was sent to the bin - a rather harsh decision some thought.

In any event Weymouth now had to play the final ten minutes with just 14 bodies on the park and it was Trowbridge who prospered by scoring a try that they converted.

The visitors were far from done however. They came back, imposed some pressure and Wilson got over in the corner for his second try of the game.

The conversion kick that would have tied the scores did not go over, but Weymouth were by no means done.

They went back at the last and created half an overlap but could not execute, and Trowbridge held on until the final whistle.

Weymouth will probably see this as the one that got away and, while accepting their losing bonus point, will feel that they could well have won.

They have shown that, generally speaking, they can certainly compete at Southern Counties level however, that that will do their collective confidence no harm at all.

IVEL BARBARIANS 52 BRIDPORT 7

IT was a very depleted team that Bridport took to Ivel for this top of the table clash. Injuries and unavailabilities had taken a savage toll and, if nothing else, the result exposed the thinness of the Brewery Field's first team squad.

Ivel were a useful and well-drilled side and, having gained the early ascendancy, retained it throughout, as the half-time scoreline of 28-0 demonstrated.

Bridport's only success of the afternoon came midway through the second half and was scored by winger Ryan de la Hunte, and converted by Lester-Card and was really little more than a consolation.

PREVIEW

THE first Saturday of November sees another full weekend of league fixtures locally and both the local Southern league (South) clubs have home fixtures.

DORCHESTER should really have too much for OAKMEDIANS, for their opponents have had a pretty scruffy start to their campaign, winning just once.

Dorchester do need to settle their side however. If they can do so via some continuity in selection/availability, they can be a force in the division.

WEYMOUTH will certainly be targeting to win their home fixture against WOOTTON BASSETT.

The visitors, while being a well-established side in the division, have not had a particularly good start to the season and lie a place below the home side.

The form-book indicates a home win by a couple of scores. Games do not take place on the form-book however and I think this one will be close.

BRIDPORT too have a home fixture. They entertain WIMBORNE 2nd, a side from the mid table of the Dorset & Wilts league Division One (South).

The home side have started their season abiding well (until last weekend that is) and should make home advantage tell in this one.

PUDDLETOWN undertake what might indeed be a decisive game in their entire league programme, for they entertain top side NEW MILTON 2nd who have carried all before them thus far, and scored a host of tries into the bargain.

Puddletown do seem to be growing into their campaign however and certainly have a chance in this one. If they are at their best they can make home advantage count. It will not be easy.

As to the second sides, Bridport seconds have started their campaign in rather better style than have their hosts, Weymouth thirds, and should make light of their short journey and return with a win.

Dorchester seconds entertain their Weymouth counterparts for what, I guess will be a typical local derby with little separating the sides at the end of the day.

County trophy on the line

LYME Regis Reserves' bid to retain the Dorset Junior Cup for the first time in the team's history begins next Saturday with the visit of Bradford Abbas.

The Resgies, who lifted the trophy in such emphatic style in thrashing Galaxy FC 5-0 at Bridport in May, could have their work cut out as unbeaten Bradford are flying high in top spot in the Yeovil & District League division two.

Last Saturday the Seaside's second-string drew a blank for the first time this season and were knocked out of the Perry Street league division one cup when they went down 2-0 at Netherbury.

Better news from the Lyme first team who despite not being at their free-flowing best moved four points clear at the top of the Premier division thanks to second-half goals from Mark Bailey and Joel Gostling in a 2-0 win over Crewkerne Town.

team that they beat in the Coronation Cup quarter-final just two weeks ago. Defender Dave Matthews and Dan Rudge are set to return while Steve Batey is on holiday in Hong Kong.

Great news from the Bantams who came from behind twice to win 6-5 after extra-time in a John Fowler cup quarter-final at Drimpton. Pete Peacock (3), Joe Bond (2) and Darren Poole scored the goals. Lyme will meet neighbours Millwey Rise Reserves in the semi-final.

Over the county border at Venlake Uplyme were held to a 3-3 draw by Thorncombe. Adam Neale (2) and Jake Bearpark scored for the Swallows who travel to Netherbury to attempt to tame the Waytown Hounds on Saturday.

Uplyme Reserves had a day to forget as they were thrashed 6-0 at Barington Reserves.

The Uplyme second-string entertain Crewkerne Rangers Reserves at the weekend.

Charmouth recorded their biggest win for three and half years as they beat Ilminster Town Colts 6-3 at Barrs Lane. Steve Wooloff (2), Mark Vaughan, Matt Pile, Simon Smythe and dan Rendall (pen) scored for the Robins who are another team in Dorset Junior cup action at the weekend when they welcome Ferndown Sports Reserves.

◆ Lyme Regis U10s continued their fine start to the season with a 5-1 win at Millwey Rise. Connor Tate (4) and Ethan Matthews scored for the young Seaside's whose star performer was right-winger Ben Culimore.

Lyme Regis U15s 100 percent league record continued with Brad Rowe, Rhys Hayter and an OG securing a 3-0 win at the Davey Fort on Sunday.
